Befriending Service

The Befriending Service supports older people living independently in their own homes. It aims to reduce social isolation and keep people in touch with their community.

How the Befriending Service works:

Our coordinator will organise a home visit to have a chat about the service and discuss your requirements.

The next step is to carefully match a volunteer befriender with you and arrange an introduction.

What the Befriending Service offers:

Home Visiting is available for clients who prefer a volunteer to visit them in their home for one to one friendship. This can be as a regular weekly visit or when required.

Social Support

Volunteers can also support clients to go out of their home, taking them for a coffee, to the library, to the shops or a day out.

Referrals to the scheme can be made directly from the individual, family, friend or carer.

We also receive referrals from other voluntary organisations or statutory agencies such as social services, community nurses, GPs house wardens or health visitors.

Volunteers

All our volunteers are trained and have full Disclosure and Barring Service checks. Out of pocket expenses are paid.

We work in partnership with other Hambleton CCAs. And receive funding from North Yorkshire County Council.
